On behalf of the International Society of Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine (ISPRM), it is our great pleasure to extend our warmest congratulations to CARF International on the occasion of its 60th anniversary.

For six decades, CARF has played an important role in advancing quality, accountability, and excellence in health and human services worldwide. Your commitment to rigorous standards and continuous improvement has significantly contributed to enhancing outcomes for individuals receiving rehabilitation and related services.

ISPRM values CARFs commitment in fostering high-quality rehabilitation services globally. We recognize the remarkable progress achieved over the past 60 years and look forward with optimism to future innovations.

Please accept our sincere congratulations on this important milestone. We wish CARF International continued success in its mission and ongoing impact in shaping the future of quality rehabilitation services.

With best regards,

Gerard Francisco
